

I believe cellphones would interfere with other passengers.

A lot of people talk louder on the phone. If you are sitting next to someone it may be hard to sleep, read or watch a movie with all the cellphone users. An aircraft is a small enough place without any place to get away from cellphone users.